

Gudrun Janssens oversees BIMCO's EU-related marine environment, safety and technical affairs from the Brussels office. She has significant expertise in ship recycling. She studied Chemistry with a focus on environmental sciences and began her professional career at the Public Waste Agency of Flanders in 2000.

As a senior policy advisor and member of the Belgian delegation to the IMO, she influenced Belgian policy on ship waste management and ship recycling for over 15 years. Gudrun also worked for the European Community of Shipowners' Associations (ECSA) and the Royal Belgian Shipowners Associations as Head of Environmental and Technical Affairs, managing environmental and climate-related shipping issues at both European and international levels.

BIMCO – THE PRACTICAL VOICE OF SHIPPING

Facilitating trade is at the very heart of our business, and since 1905, we've helped our members keep world trade moving. We make it our business to help our members with theirs.

BIMCO members cover 62% of the world's tonnage and consist of local, global, small and large companies. We are an organisation and global shipping community of over 2,000 members in 130 countries.

From our offices in Athens, Houston, Brussels, Copenhagen, London, Shanghai and Singapore we aim to help build a resilient industry in a sustainable future whilst protecting world trade. We do this by finding practical solutions for our members to help them manage risk in a changing world.
